Description

This beautiful bracelet is adorned with five elongated carnelian cabochons of a lovely color, set in intricate and engraved settings. The tapering ends, leading to the clasp, are decorated with repoussé, engraved, and openwork scenes featuring figures, buildings, and vegetation. The cabochons are gently domed, and the bracelet sits comfortably on the wrist. Markings on the back, stamped within rectangles, read: "silver" and "made in China." China has been manufacturing and exporting jewelry to the West since 1785! Based on these markings, we date this beautiful bracelet to around the 1930s. EXCELLENT CONDITION, beautiful antique patina! Note an old reinforcement on the reverse of the box-shaped part of the ratchet clasp, which is perfectly functional. Interior Dimensions: 5.7cm
