Description

Superb mahogany writing case/box, originally used on ships in the late 19th century. In perfect condition. It comes complete with its original contents: inkwell, pen holder, seals, letters, clock, etc. The writing surface is lined with leather (relatively recent) and features nautical anchors at the corners. Numerous secret compartments include a large drawer on the side of the case, which is released when a brass rod is pulled. The brass lock has its key and is functional. Its dimensions in cm: length 50, depth 25, height 16. The depth when the case is in the writing position is 52. A rare, decorative, and authentic item, ideal for collectors of maritime artifacts or historical writing instruments. This item is also available for viewing in my shop in Belz, Morbihan, southern Brittany, where you can collect it if you
