

Enamelled Gold And Diamond Brooch Depicting Athena

3 300 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Parfait état

Description

Circular 18k gold brooch, centered with a profile portrait of Athena (Minerva), painted in enamel on a radiant blue translucent guilloché background. The goddess is depicted wearing a richly decorated helmet and armor, executed in sculpted gold in relief, punctuated with small old-cut diamonds set on the helmet. An exceptional combination of guilloché, painted enamel, sculpted gold in relief, and diamond setting, illustrating exceptional jewelry and enameling skill. Dimensions: approx. 4 × 3.5 cm. Condition: perfect; enamel intact, chased gold remarkably fresh, diamonds fully set. Attribution: Probably the Meyle & Mayer workshop, Pforzheim, renowned for its mythological portraits in guilloché enamel. The superior quality of execution compared to standard production

Dealer

Collection

Collection

Mobile : 0032475266745

Mons 7000

suggests a commissioned or presentation piece.

Dating: circa 1895-1910. Estimate:

EUR8,000-12,000