Description

Important "Verdure" tapestry produced in the 18th century in the workshops of the Aubusson region. Our tapestry features a succession of planes to create a beautiful sense of depth. Tall trees rise to the full height of the tapestry, while in the foreground, thickets of various plants and flowers appear. In the middle ground, a park is enlivened by two ducks paddling in a pond near a fountain. A white stone balustrade draws the eye towards the background, suggesting the presence of humans. A "Verdure" tapestry is one whose main theme is nature. These compositions were primarily created for ornamental purposes, as evidenced by our tapestry, which also features a highly decorative border teeming with elegant bouquets of flowers intertwined with foliage and fruit.
