Description

Sculpture in excellent condition, with a nuanced dark brown patina. Signed Barye on the front left of the base. The Barbedienne casting (signature on the back right of the base: F.

BARBEDIENNE. Fondateur) perfectly captures its beautiful silhouette, its endearing face with its small ears. Antoine-Louis Barye (1796-1875) was a French sculptor and painter, famous for his animal works with remarkable realism and expressiveness. He is considered one of the greatest masters of 19th-century animal sculpture.
