Large centerpiece cachepot in polychrome white biscuit porcelain on a dark blue ground. It features mythological scenes in the classical style and friezes of palmettes and lion heads.

Wedgwood porcelain, late 19th or early 20th century, signed on the base. A beautiful and refined object, very evocative of 18th-century elegance. It is a large piece; the dark blue color distinguishes it from the more common light blue production. In excellent condition, no damage.
