

Luopan - Geomantic Feng Shui Compass, Wood, Lacquer, China, Qing Dynasty.

750 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Réentoilé

Material : Painted wood

Diameter : 17

Depth : 2

Description

Chinese geomantic compass - a tool of the ancient masters of geomancy, i.e., feng shui, used to determine auspicious spheres for humankind. The luopan's dial is composed of concentric rings inscribed with various pieces of information drawn from Chinese philosophy, including the eight trigrams, the hexagrams of the Yijing, the five elements, and the 28 lunar stations. China, Qing dynasty, 19th century. Wood, lacquer, dial with magnetic pointer. Dimensions: diameter: 17 cm, thickness: 2 cm. Condition: damaged.

Dealer

Antiques Urbaniak

Arts et métiers des XVIIIe et XIXe siècles

Mobile : 0048 609 682 083

10 rue Wielka

Poznan 61774