Description

A very pretty octagonal box, made from solid wood and exotic wood veneer with a striking contrast of grain colors. It rests on a plinth; the body fit a pierced brass hinge and a beautiful openwork hook. Overhanging lid has a cyma molding and is crowned with a marquetry compass rose. A superb and rare form, small in size yet impressive in appearance. However, it has suffered some wear; old repairs of varying quality are visible (arrows in my photos). I am selling this late 17th/early 18th-century item in its found condition. Dimensions: 11.2cm x 8cm.
