Description

Exceptional set of four Globe Wernicke London oak bookcases from the late 19th/early 20th century from England. They can be separated and used as two pairs, which can be very beautiful in a decoration. The bookcases are made of oak and consist of a molded base and top and five glazed panels. The glassed doors slide inside the cabinet and feature brass handles. The bookcases have large elements and deep allowing for the display of large books. They can be used as bookcases or display cabinets. In perfect condition with a beautiful patina, these bookcases match perfectly into an antique and contemporary interiors. Delivery available in Belgium, France, and internationally. Viewable in our 2500m² showroom at 41 Rue Henri Wafelaerts, 1060 Brussels, Belgium. More information and photos
