Description

A superb Telamons Classic caryatid, strikingly imposing, sculpted in plaster with powerful and elegant modeling. The male figure, treated as an atlas, presents an admirably anatomical torso, arms raised in a majestic and perfectly balanced posture. The whole piece extends over 2.4 meters and is adorned with a sumptuous cascade of foliage, ribbons, and richly detailed architectural motifs. The base, finely worked with acanthus leaves and scrolls, lends the piece a rare classical elegance. This caryatid is distinguished by: * Its monumental presence, ideal for enhancing a hall, gallery, private mansion, or prestigious setting. * Its sculptural quality, combining strength, virtuosity, and decorative refinement. * Its authentic patina, which enhances the volumes and gives an irresistible charm to the reliefs.
