Description

Set of four cantilever armchairs designed by Marcel Breuer and produced in the 1960s and 70s for Matteo Grassi. A very interesting set in excellent original condition, each chair features a chromed metal frame and terracotta-colored leather seats and backs. These armchairs are very comfortable thanks to their flexible structure, which adapts to the body. The leather is in exceptional condition, showing no wear or color defects. The set is very appealing due to its number of four, making it suitable for everyday use, for example, in a dining room or living room.
