Description

A decorative cabinet-sized pair of Samson porcelain guinea fowl, made in Paris around 1845 after Kaendler's famous 18th-century Meissen models. Each bird sits on a foliage-moulded base with black-spotted plumage, a magenta-toned neck and gilded beak--features consistent with Samson's refined reinterpretations of admired European prototypes. Slight variations in modelling and weight indicate true hand-finishing. At 16-16.5 cm, this is Samson's smaller size, valued for its balanced proportions and suitability for display on shelving, a console or a mantel. Pairs of this model are notably scarcer than single examples. Measurements Figure 1 Height: 16 cm (6.30'') Width: 11 cm (4.33'') Depth: 7 cm (2.76'') Weight: 276 g Figure 2 Height: 16.5 cm
