Rectangular Sterling Silver Tray - William Comyns For Hardy Bros (1896)

280 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Sterling silver

Length : 23 cm

Description

Elegant rectangular sterling silver tray, finely decorated in repoussé with putti, scrolling foliage and floral motifs.
The shaped border enhances the softness of the lines, characteristic of late Victorian silverwork.

The tray bears English hallmarks attributable to William Comyns, one of the most renowned London silversmiths of the late 19th century, celebrated for his richly modelled repoussé surfaces.
On the side appears the engraved retailer's mark "Hardy Bros Sydney", the prestigious Australian jewellery house founded in 1853, which frequently commissioned pieces from leading British silversmiths.
