Description

Forged Iron Rousing Art Déco Bench with Offwhite Bouclé Fabric Portugal 1920s Very unusual and rare Portuguese Art Déco bench in wrought iron. The object captivates with its dimensions and curved volute legs. It is both graceful-swinging and stable, an absolute eye-catcher. The iron was originally finished with a green, very damaged paint, which we had removed by a locksmith in a laborious manual process using a small brush. The iron has been protected and treated with a new layer of wax and now has a modern character in black and white. The bench has been re-upholstered and re-covered with fabric by Pierre Frey, Paris. The dimensions of the seat cushion only are as follows: 203 x 39 x 7 cm.
