Description

Italian sideboard from the 1950s, crafted from walnut with a herringbone veneer on the four doors. The vertical uprights feature a refined canneté finish, while the hanging brass handles are all original. The top is in original smoked glass, embellished with a central sculpted element reminiscent of the finest Milanese cabinetmaking of the 1950s. The frame rests on four tapered legs with brass tips. Italy, ca. 1950
Style: Paolo Buffa - Milanese School
Materials: walnut, brass, smoked glass
