Description

Jaeger-LeCoultre Atmos Clock (1984) -- Unused, Mint Condition, Complete with Original Box & Papers A museum-quality example of the iconic Jaeger-LeCoultre Atmos, dated 1984 and preserved in brand-new, unused condition -- a true rarity in the world of fine horology. This clock remained untouched in its original packaging for four decades; the sealed factory plastic containing the certificate and documents was only recently opened for verification.This Atmos embodies Jaeger-LeCoultre's legendary mastery: a clock that runs in near-perpetuity, powered only by minute changes in air pressure and temperature. Its clean architectural form, gilt frame, and glass vitrines reflect the timeless modernity and engineering precision that make the Atmos an unrivalled design classic.This is
