Description

It's been twisting and turning for over 86 years... Imagine, completely original, it works perfectly, with a key to wind it up and a stop to put it back. A copy-pasted description from the internet will do: "When the base of 'Monstro the Whale' is working correctly, it rocks back and forth, making Pinocchio swing and perform acrobatics. The lithographed tin figures in this toy are highly sought after by collectors." "Vintage wind-up toy of Pinocchio the Acrobat in lithographed tin, by Marx; he flies over Geppetto and the whale." Disney production from 1939. Height: 40.6 cm. Very good working condition, with normal signs of wear.
