Description

Art Deco stoneware coffee service. Manufactured by Denert et Balichon, active in Vierzon from 1909 to 1952. The pieces are marked Denbac 403 or 403, except for the saucers. The Denbac mark (a contraction of Denert et Balichon) was used from 1920 to 1952. This service straddles the line between Art Nouveau and Art Deco; it was therefore most likely produced in the 1920s. The set comprises 15 pieces: a coffee pot, a sugar bowl, a milk jug, six cups, and six saucers. The tones are blended and harmonious, in shades of blue, blue-gray, green-gray, and brown. It has a slightly metallic sheen, characteristic of this manufacturer. Total weight: 3.769 kg. No cracks or chips. In perfect condition !
