Description

Large and interesting canvas from the 1950s-1960s depicting a young mother carrying her child in a Hong Kong street: a label on the back mentions a sign "Man Fong Picture frame maker," a canvas merchant located at 41 Wellington Street in Hong Kong. - The work is signed in the lower right corner, but the signature is difficult to decipher / cliché details - Note: it is an ink or gouache painting, that is to say, a work executed with a single color, diluted with water. There are preparatory pencil lines visible here and there: the Chinese calligraphy in the background corresponds to the signs that were in the streets of Hong Kong at that time... - it should be noted that technically, there is a very high level of skill evident: for the last twenty years or so, there has been a real enthusiasm for Chinese and
