Description

Large wrought iron gate with antique stained glass - Central star motif. This superb wrought iron gate is adorned with small panes of colored glass arranged in a checkerboard pattern. At its center, a round medallion holds a five-pointed star made of iron, giving it both a decorative and symbolic character. The structure has a beautiful antique patina, with traces of natural oxidation that enhance its authenticity. The stained glass, in shades of deep blue, green, amber, and translucent, creates a very elegant play of light. The ends of the gate are fitted with extended rods, suggesting a former architectural use (probably as a railing, partition, or decorative element integrated into an opening).
