Description

A charming miniature from the Jaipur School, finely executed in gouache and enhanced with delicate details. The scene depicts a princely interior, where several richly dressed figures converse within a traditional architectural setting: sculpted columns, stylized floral decoration, and geometric paving typical of Rajput aesthetics. The work is distinguished by the precision of the textile patterns, the delicacy of the faces, and the harmony of the colors. The composition is centered on a seated figure in a position of authority, surrounded by advisors or visitors, while a figure in red robes stands in the foreground. The miniature is presented in an elegant double-matted frame of orange velvet, perfectly highlighting the warm palette of the work. Excellent condition. Frame dimensions: 28
