Description

Bronze Lamp Signed Victor Paillard. Total height 71cm. High-quality bronze. Victor Paillard was the son of Charles Paillard, a small landowner, and Denise Louise Victoire de Chaumont. While staying with his sister, Mme Baudin, in By-Thomery (Seine-et-Marne), his artistic talents were noticed by the Count of Guzmán [Which one?], who sent him to Paris to further his studies. After attending the Royal Free School of Drawing and training as a chaser, he became a student of Jean-François Denière and a collaborator of Ferdinand Barbedienne. Quickly recognized as one of the best bronze founders of his time, he established a company specializing in art objects and furniture around 1830, which employed up to one hundred people by the mid-19th century. He received numerous official commissions, notably
