Description

This decorative vase is finely sculpted from a natural stone, a type of soft Chinese stone with warm, slightly translucent hues. Its handcrafted style, characterized by raised flowers and a delicately chiseled bird, evokes the artistry of workshops from the late Qing dynasty to the early Republican era (late 19th - early 20th century). The refined details, harmonious proportions, and intricately worked base make it an elegant and charming piece, ideal for enriching a collection or adding an authentic artistic touch to any interior.
