Description

A beautiful painting by Raymond Tellier, signed and dated in the upper right corner. Raymond Tellier was a renowned Orientalist portrait painter, born in 1898 and died in 1985. He studied under Cormon, Émile Renard, and P. Laurens. Awarded a gold medal at the Salon in 1931, he received numerous prizes and awards throughout his career. He notably received the Grand Prix of French West Africa and traveled to North Africa and Madagascar, where he painted magnificent portraits. His paintings of young girls are wonderfully vibrant and realistically rendered. They are highly sought after in his oeuvre. This is a truly beautiful work, in its original frame, where the artist demonstrates his full talent, particularly in the exceptionally well-captured gaze. A very interesting and decorative piece for collectors.
