Art Deco table lamp, made in France around 1930. This lamp combines a hand-hammered wrought iron base, delicately embellished with a stamped design of stylized flowers, with a molded, pressed frosted glass globe adorned with a floral motif in relief of great geometric purity. The composition creates a harmonious contrast between the rigor of the worked metal and the satiny softness of the glass, in the spirit of the designers of the Nancy School and the French decorative workshops of the interwar period. The globe diffuses a soft, warm light, ideal for revealing the finesse of the decoration. Qualities and attributes: Period: Art Deco, circa 1930
