Description

Superb eight-light bronze and crystal chandelier, enlivened by a cascade of large, blown amber glass drops, lending it a warm presence and brilliance. The central stem is composed of cut crystal elements typical of late 19th/early 20th-century French production. The bronze mount displays elegant, understated rocaille motifs, evoking the transition between the Louis XV style and 1900s production. The chandelier is adorned with high-quality cut crystal pendants and terminates in a faceted sphere. Completely rewired to CE standards. French work, circa 1900.
