Description

A trapezoidal cabinet made of natural wood inlaid with native woods, opening at the front via two doors adorned with a geometric herringbone pattern. The lid and base are embellished with an elegant trompe-l'oeil inlay depicting bottomless cubes, creating a subtle sense of depth. The interior contains three drawers, resting on four stylised spindle legs in blackened wood. A French piece from the Napoleon III period, crafted in the tradition of 18th-century French cabinetmakers. H_37 cm, W_23 cm. In good condition.
