Description

"Photography" Collection by Frédéric Dillaye. Set of 4 volumes, octavo format, with raised bands and green marbled endpapers, with numerous illustrations. Published by Librairie Illustrée, J. Tallandier, 1902. Contents: Photographic Development, Printing, Photographic Practice, and The Art of Photography. Frédéric Dillaye (1848-1917) began his career at the Ministry of Finance, which he left to devote himself to writing. He became a journalist in Paris, but it was as a novelist that he achieved success. He was one of the first to show an interest in the nascent art and technique of photography. He lost his wife in the fire at the Bazar de la Charité. Link to the website: <https://www.lavalisearlesienne.com/product-page/la-photographie-en-4-volumes-fr%C3%A9d%C3%A9ric-dillaye>
