Description

Contemporary School: "Bust of Julius Caesar with Laureate Crown," patinated black cement, 48 x 28 x 24 cm, titled and monogrammed on the back, minor chips. Extremely decorative, but very heavy! This is the first time I've encountered this material: I've often worked with terracotta, plaster, marble, bronze, spelter, stone, etc., but I was surprised that a sculptor would choose cement, probably mixed with resin. I think the dark patina, which gives it the appearance of bronze, and the choice of this material likely intended this life-size sculpture for outdoor use. Although it comes from Belgium, its origin is believed to be Toulouse, but I haven't been able to identify the sculptor. Please feel free to ask us for more photos or information by email or phone.
