Description

Large Vallauris stoneware vase, made circa 1950-1960, featuring a fully hand-painted decoration (décor main).

The decoration is inspired by prehistoric cave paintings (Lascaux style), depicting animals, a hunting scene and symbolic motifs, executed in black and ochre tones on a speckled grey ground characteristic of post-war Vallauris production.

The vase bears a painted paraph signature corresponding to the decorator's mark, a common practice in Vallauris workshops for hand-decorated pieces.

Height: 26.5 cm

Top diameter: 19.2 x 16.3 cm

Material: stoneware

Technique: hand-painted decoration

Period: circa 1950-1960
