Description

Three-dolphin Murano blown glass candlestick signed Barovier and Toso. These Murano glass candlesticks date from the 1940s-1950s and are characteristic of the Venetian style of that period. They showcase a sophisticated glassmaking technique with gold leaf inclusions, demonstrating the expertise of Murano's master glassmakers. These decorative pieces are particularly prized by collectors of Italian glass art and lovers of mid-century design. The dolphin shape is a recurring motif in Venetian glass art, symbolizing Venice's relationship with the sea. These objects are valued for their exceptional craftsmanship and distinctive aesthetic that combines elegance and whimsy. Overall good condition except for a few very minor, barely visible imperfections. Delivery or shipping is
