Description

Elegant Italian Empire chest of drawers from the 19th century, crafted from fine solid walnut wood. The structure is sturdy and well-proportioned, featuring clean lines and balanced proportions typical of the Neoclassical style of the period. The piece consists of three spacious drawers, enhanced by original gilt metal handles and escutcheons, with column-shaped side uprights that add a refined vertical emphasis. The top is made of dark marble, finely moulded and perfectly integrated with the wooden structure. In excellent condition, this chest of drawers is ideal both as a functional furnishing piece and as a valuable decorative element, perfectly suited to classic and elegant interiors.
