Description

Solid oak table with central pedestal and storage by Charles Dudouyt, 1950s. Charles Dudouyt (1885-1946) was one of the great French furniture designers of the 1930s and 40s. He modernized the rustic style with sculpted volumes, exposed joinery, and geometric patterns. His furniture, often made of solid oak, prioritizes the material and the craftsmanship, eschewing superficial effects, for a straightforward and timeless elegance. In the 1950s, his workshop continued this formal approach, to which this table, with its strong and authentic character, belongs. Discover all our other products on our website:
