Description

This Angoulême earthenware piece is a work by Alfred Renoleau (1854-1930), a renowned ceramist from the Charente region. Decorated with a blue glaze, this vase dates from the 1920s. It is in perfect condition, with no chips or cracks; the glaze bubbles on the base are firing artifacts. An original piece among the rest of Renoleau's production. Signed in relief on the base.
