Description

Large portrait of a young woman from the nobility or bourgeoisie, dated 1841 and signed DUSAULCHOY in the lower right. This is by Charles DUSAULCHOY (1741-1852). This talented painter was a student of Jacques-Louis David and Baron Gros. He often depicted Emperor Napoleon I and his family. A naval officer and history painter, he became the official professor of topography for the Imperial Guard. This elegant young woman is shown wearing a ball gown adorned with fine lace, a hairstyle fashionable during the reign of Louis Philippe, and precious jewelry that signifies her social standing. Her hands rest on a book, a testament to her culture. This painting has been relined and cleaned previously. Dimensions: 82 cm x 66 cm. Shipping within France via Colissimo registered
