of Francesco Guardi, using a contrasting color palette that alternates brown tones with highlights, creating an effect that is more atmospheric than calligraphic in his paintings. This pair of large landscapes represents a rare example in which the painter attempted not to depict Venice, but rather the Venetian countryside. Tironi's signature colors and tones are evident, from the clouds in the sky to the "macchiette," this time dressed as country girls rather than gondoliers. - All shipments to the EU are free and professionally packaged. - This item is sold with a certificate of authenticity with legal validity. - Further details on the condition report are available upon request.
