Description

A decorative polychrome barbotine set, composed of three elements: a central bowl on a pedestal flanked by two matching vases, forming a harmonious and refined ensemble, typical of late 19th-century decorative production. The decoration depicts charming gallant figures, dressed in 18th-century-inspired costumes, rendered with great attention to detail and a soft, luminous color palette. The finely modeled figures are integrated into a naturalistic composition evoking stylized tree trunks, with nuanced enamels in shades of green, brown, and golden hues, enhanced by generous gilding. The central bowl, with its polylobed rim, is adorned with a delicate floral design painted in low relief, resting on a richly sculpted pedestal and enlivened by two figures engaged in flirtatious conversation. The two slender side vases share the same decorative style, each adorned with a different figure, lending the set a particularly appealing visual and narrative balance. The quality of the modeling, the delicacy of the expressions, the attention to detail in the clothing, and the richness of the glazes and gilt highlights all attest to meticulous craftsmanship, intended for the adornment of bourgeois or aristocratic interiors. This set is a choice decorative element, ideal for a mantelpiece, sideboard, or console table, and integrates perfectly into a classic, romantic, or eclectic interior. Period: late 19th century. Material: polychrome barbotine porcelain. Composition: one central bowl and two vases. Condition: very good overall condition. Dimensions: 30 cm high. An elegant and expressive decorative set, captivating for the quality of its execution, its gallant charm, and its richly animated decoration.
