Description

Optical view of Maârsen in Holland, 18th century. View of the village of Maârsen with the Vecht River in the center and its two banks bustling with activity. Fishing boats in the foreground. This view was probably made after an oil painting on canvas by Jacob Storck, painted in 1664. Engraving made in Paris at Beauvais, rue Saint-Jacques. Good overall condition. Some light foxing. Very fine and detailed engraving. Width: 39 cm, Length: 55.5 cm. Image size: 44 x 28 cm.
