Description

Elegant small sideboard in solid walnut, carved and dark patinated. The piece is distinguished by its small bracket feet and the classic period-style ashlar work beneath the top. The geometric and floral carvings on the front lend it a refined elegance. The sideboard consists of a door and a drawer, the latter used at the time as a candle holder. On the back is an inscription with a cross and two initials, likely referring to the church to which it belonged. It was likely once placed in front of a kneeling stool. This is a piece of great taste and refinement, capable of furnishing any space with class and a touch of
