Description

Albert GUILLOUX (1871-1952) Oil on canvas 27x36 cm "Bouquet of Roses" circa 1930 Signed lower left Born in Rouen into a family of sculptors, Albert Guilloux won the second Prix de Rome for sculpture and established a strong reputation, receiving numerous public commissions. It was under the influence of his godfather, Albert Lebourg, that he took up painting at his home in Normandy. This bouquet, whose treatment is reminiscent of the free style of the Rouen School, is an intimate and deeply sensitive work. Bibliography: Benezit, Dictionnaire Edouard Joseph, Schurr,...
