Description

Sculpture depicting a hand - patinated bronze, early 1900s Elegant bronze sculpture depicting a hand, sculpted with meticulous anatomical attention and a remarkable level of material quality. The work features a natural patina of green and brown tones, consistent with the age and oxidation of the metal, which enhances its character and authenticity. The hand rests on a contoured base, an integral part of the composition, lending the whole a sense of balance and expressive power. The intense and symbolic subject evokes themes of presence, gesture, and memory, making the work particularly suitable for collectors of modern sculpture or as a refined study decorPeriod: 20th centuryDimensions: 26.5 x 10.8 cm - height 9.5 cm Material: patinated bronzeCondition: good,
