Description

Antique Blown Glass Demijohn - 60 Liters This antique blown glass demijohn, with its generous 60-liter capacity, is distinguished by the simple elegance of its curves and the imperfect beauty of hand-shaped glass. Its ample and balanced silhouette evokes cellars of yesteryear, patient harvests, and the slow passage of time--the kind that transforms and reveals. The transparent, subtly rippled glass reveals the traces of artisanal glassblowing: light bubbles, variations in thickness, and shifting reflections that capture the light and animate the object depending on the time of day. Each irregularity contributes to its charm and recalls the glassmaker's hand, far removed from any standardized industrial production. A utilitarian object transformed into a decorative piece, this demijohn now finds its
