Description

A solid silver mustard pot, Louis XVI period. The body is pierced with a decoration of floral garlands and fruit. In the center, a blank cartouche is supported by two cupids. It rests on three hoof feet. With its original blue glass insert. Stamped silver technique. Weight: 216 gross. Very well hallmarked. PARIS, 1786. Silversmith: Charles GRIMPRELLE. Hallmarks under the lid and under the body + discharge mark on the outer lid. A small part of the garland is missing to the left of the handle (see photo). Note: Henri Nocq states that he only saw this silversmith's hallmark once, on a repoussé mustard pot. Perhaps this one? Source: "Le poinçon de Paris" pp. 279 and 280. See photo.
