Description

This pedestal bowl, signed Jean-Claude Novaro, measures 25.5 cm tall and 16 cm in diameter.

Very luminous with yellow, green, and brown colors, and featuring inclusions, it is signed under the base and dated 1988. Jean-Claude Novaro was a master glassmaker born in Antibes in the Alpes-Maritimes region on October 18, 1943. He died in Monaco on December 30, 2014. After 20 years of research, he invented the inclusion of gold, silver, and bronze in glass, as well as phosphorescent glass.
