Description

A simple row of oval discs linked by a gold-tone metal chain, featuring an off-white ceramic face and a domed reverse of iridescent opaque glass, both sides finished with a gold border. A necklace typical of the jewelry created by Denise Gatard (1921-1992), playful (reversible and adjustable length), magnetic (the glass has a moonstone-like attraction), yet remains understated. 1960s. Very good condition - one disc has some beige discoloration and a small spot of gilding on its ceramic face. Discs: approx. 2 cm x 1.5 cm. Approx. 48 cm long; adjustable to approx. 37 cm.
