This generously sized Imari lamp from Japan has everything it takes to decorate your living room. Electrified to current standards, it boasts a beautiful bulbous body adorned with the famously rich ornamentation against a white glazed background, featuring a floral design in shades of blue, red, coral, and gold. Originally assembled in the 19th century for import during the reign of Napoleon III, it has been enhanced by a Parisian bronze mount to seamlessly integrate into your interior. The quality of the decoration is masterful and impeccable, the rich paintwork with its cartouches and upper and lower friezes, the body filled with beautiful blooming flowers. The base, resting on five legs and decorated with acanthus scrolls, blends harmoniously with the floral motif. A significant piece, beautifully
