Description

A superb and rare 17th-century Spanish Renaissance period walnut console table with a beautiful lyre-shaped base, typical of 17th-century Catalan tables. This table can serve as a desk or a large console, as it has been crafted on both sides. It can therefore be placed in the center of a room if needed. Its shallow depth (60cm) makes it suitable for use as a console, which is rare; they are often deeper. It has three drawers in the frieze with a very nice molding work on the drawers. Original locks. It features a beautiful, thick walnut top (4 cm) made from a single piece of walnut wrought iron stretchers typical of Catalan tables. Beautiful patina and in superb condition. Delivery available in Belgium, France, and internationally. Viewable in our showroom at 41 Rue Henri Wafelaerts, 1060
