Description

This extendable teak dining table, designed by Dyrlund in Denmark in the 1960s, perfectly embodies the elegance of Scandinavian design. Its rounded-edge tabletop rests on tapered legs, lending a touch of lightness and refinement to the whole. The carefully crafted teak reveals a warm grain that testifies to the quality of this piece. Equipped with two integrated sliding extensions beneath the tabletop, the table easily adapts to the needs of its users. In its extended position, it can seat up to 8 to 10 guests, ideal for family meals or dinners with friends. The manufacturer's label is located under the table. Its clean and timeless design blends harmoniously into any type of interior, whether vintage, modern, or eclectic. This iconic Dyrlund creation combines functionality and aesthetics, making it much more
