Description

Restoration Period Marble Sculpture of a Young Woman. Charming early 19th-century Restoration period marble sculpture depicting a veiled young woman (a Venus?) in white marble resting on an antique green marble base with a gilt bronze waterleaf molding. The young woman has an oval-shaped restoration on her back, likely original. The sea-green marble base was reattached long ago. A beautiful and exquisitely crafted early 19th-century marble sculpture. Dimensions: 19.5 cm high. We deliver and ship worldwide; please contact us for a precise quote.
