Description

- Fountain spout depicting in high relief the head of a young child emerging from drapery. The drapery falls elegantly on either side of the child's face. The head is surmounted by a stylized palmette arranged in a fan shape like a crown. The child's wide-open, pierced mouth combines this refined aesthetic with a practical function for pouring water. - Cast iron spout, dating from the late 19th century. - In good condition, ready to be put back into operation. - Dimensions: height: 28.5 cm, width: 20.6 cm, depth: 10 cm
